I came to know about FIITJEE through my seniors. They told me that AITS is very helpful in learning to give the exam in CBT mode under exam conditions, as well as polishing off any rough edges in my preparation. This encouraged me to join the program. I had first joined AITS and later enrolled in ICP classes. Studying with other top rankers from my city in ICP motivated me to pick up my pace and push myself harder. The teachers were adept at explaining new concepts which helped cover some of my weak topics. Thus ICP classes increased my ability to tackle more conceptual questions. Being able to practice giving the exam in CBT mode in AITS developed my confidence to be able to face the final paper. The prompt uploading of the test papers on the website was very helpful in enabling me to analyze my performance soon after the paper. AITS also exposed me to a diverse set of questions, gave me practice of writing tougher papers, and helped me get an idea of my standing at a national level. My advice to juniors would be that wherever or however you are preparing, it is your hard work and belief in yourself which will make the difference. These two qualities, along with my overall experience at FIITJEE, made me more confident and prepared to face the challenge of the paper.
